January 7, 2019

Program

President Lion Mike Ponder called upon Lion Steve Murphree to bring us our program. Lion Steve, appropriately enough for tonight's college football championship game, had prepared a SEC college football trivia quiz in which we all participated. Lion Steve went to a good bit of trouble in coming up with 10 tough questions, gleaned from the internet. Although he is an Auburn graduate, himself, he did include a question to which Alabama was the correct answer. The questions were all multiple choice, but less than half of our group were able to answer more than five. The winner was Lion Scott Waldrep, who got nine correct and received a trophy, a fancy proclamation of his win (suitable for framing; see photo on page 3), a bag of chips, and a box of moon pies.

It was indeed a big night for Lion Scott; he also won the "pot" drawing at the conclusion of the meeting.

Thoughtful individual as he is, Lion Steve provided us with an engaging, amusing, but mercifully short program tonight – since most of us were thinking about slipping away from the meeting for the big championship game on TV, which was almost upon us.

Other Business

Due to his recent fall, Lion Jim Walker will be in rehab for the next couple of weeks.

I failed to note in the last Tail Twister that Lion Wendel Copeland was presented with a pin from Lions International, in recognition his 55 years of service as a Lion.

Lion Milton Parrish was awarded a Centennial Membership Pin from Lions International for bring in a new member last year.

At our next meeting Lions will be provided with a set of tickets to sell for our Fish and Ham Dinner, which will be held on March 9th. Lion Carey Thompson will be making team assignments for this event. In general, he will use last year's assignments as the starting point for 2019 assignments. If you were not happy with your position last year, see him for possible change.
