Cullman Lions Club

Sep 26, 2022

Program

Following another good meal, we did not have a program speaker and had a relatively short meeting. Lion Milford Parrish presided. A report on the upcoming fair preparations and general club business and activities was given.

Ricky Peek did not receive a prestigious award tonight. Gray Murphree is improving but still faces possible knee replacement and an extended recovery, following his fall. Charlie Childers was out tonight, taking his mother-in-law to get her pacemaker's battery changed and an oil-check – warning lights, apparently connected to her ears had come-on.

Other Business

Lion Chris Robinson gave an update from the Fair Board of Director's (BOD) meeting: The Fair will have a couple of petting zoos coming for two consecutive 5-day periods in a tent just outside the barn. The BOD gifted donations to the 4-H Clubs and Master Gardener organization. Baker Music will schedule bands to perform in the theater on evenings after all the pageants have concluded.

Lion Brad Mitchell reported on his positive experiences so far and the great information that has been presented in the monthly, new-lion orientation series of meetings. He thanked Lion Frank Odell, the organizer, for a "job, well-done." He was also particularly appreciative to the "eloquent" Lion Don Smith for his presentation on the Club's By-Laws and Constitution.

To pick-up your Lions T-shirt, see Lion Craig Gadow who will be at the fairground's office , 5:30pm-6:30pm, until Friday. He asks that you pick up your shirt from him, so he can keep track of distribution, and determine if you want to pay cash/check upon pick-up or have the cost added to your dues statement.

Lion Chris Robinson

Lion Bill Ruehl visited Lion Wendell Copeland at his home and reported that he is in good spirits and feeling better. Lion Frank Odell was with us tonight after recovering from Covid. Breaking his trend,

Secretary Lion Craig Gadow modeling his new Lion T-shirt.
